IN issuing a SCOTTISH DIRECTORY at a moderate price our aim is to supply a void long acknowledged by all classes.

That our efforts have been appreciated we gratefully recognise in the liberal support accorded to this edition, and for which we offer our sincere thanks to our very numerous Advertisers and Subscribers.

In tendering our acknowledgments to all those who favoured us with information, we wish to state that any suggestions likely to increase the usefulness of the work will have our respectful consideration.

It will be our earnest and constant endeavour in future editions, by accuracy of detail, completeness of information, and the introduction of new features, to merit continued public confidence.

To Advertisers.

MACDONALD'S SCOTTISH DIRECTORY offers unusual facilities for placing their Specialities advantageously before the Public.

The DIRECTORY embraces over ONE THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED Cities, Towns and Villages; each district is thoroughly canvassed personally by Competent Agents solely engaged on this publication, thus securing a Local Circulation in all parts of Scotland. The work also circulates freely in London, and the principal towns of England and Ireland.

Advertisements obtain great publicity by the constant use of the Book for reference in the principal Hotels, Exchanges, and Public Libraries.

Advertisers have also an important advantage in a Copious Classified Index of their various Trades, same as preceding pages.

Advertisers should note that Advertisements in Directories are of long duration, being bound in a Book which is in daily use for years by all classes.

Scale of Charges for the Insertion of Advertisements in the Edition of "Scottish Directory" now being compiled, will be forwarded on application to

GAZETTEER SECTION,

Giving the Location, Population, and other Local Statistics of the Cities, Towns, and Parishes—also of every Village of Importance—in Scotland, with Postal, Telegraphic, Railway, and Shipping information.

In this section of the work it would be superfluous to allude to the Manufactures, Trades, Banks, Hotels, &c., in each locality, of which particulars will be found in the Directory portion, where copious lists are given of Manufacturers, Merchants, Agents, Dealers, and others connected with the various Trades and Businesses in the Kingdom. Space is too limited to allow of any reference to History.

For Brevity the following Abbreviations are used:—

Aberdeen, city on the River Dee. The county town of Aberdeenshire, a royal and parliamentary burgh, a university town, a seat of judiciary and sheriff courts, and a head port. It is one of the finest cities in Great Britain, and being built of granite is aptly called "The Granite City." The public buildings are numerous, and include the Municipal and County Buildings (1869), cost £60,000; Lunatic Asylum (1819), £20,000; Infirmary (1840), £17,000; Marischal College (1841), £21,500; Grammar School (1863), £15,000; Post Office (1876), £16,000; the New Market (1882), £23,000, the most handsome building of its kind in Scotland. Many attractive Ecclesiastical buildings and several new and capacious schools. The public parks are the Victoria Park, the Union Terrace Gardens, and the Duthie Park. The latter, which covers 47 acres and has cost some £50,000—the magnificent gift of Miss Duthie, of Ruthrieston—was opened 27th September, 1883, by H.R.H. Princess Beatrice. Among the adornments to this park already announced are a monument to the memory of Sir William Wallace, to cost about £3000, and a monument by the Gordon Highlanders to the memory of their comrades who fell during the late Egyptian war. It has a head Post Office, with all departments and several sub-offices. It has railway communication with all parts. The Churches are Established, Free, United Presbyterian, Congregational, Evangelical Union, Baptist, Episcopalian, Roman Catholic, &c. The harbour has recently undergone great and costly improvements, and is now most commodious. Its shipping in 1882, comprised 2359 vessels of 574,755 tons inward, and 2345 vessels of 565,993 tons outward. A considerable import and export trade is being carried on, and coasting steamers sail regularly to Buckie, Cromarty, Dundee, Leith (for Edinburgh), Hull, Invergordon, Inverness, Kirkwall, Lerwick, Liverpool, London, Newcastle, Oban, Stromness, Stornoway, Thurso, Wick, &c. It is one of the principal fishing ports on the east coast. Annual value of R. p. (1882-83) £459,972. pop. (1881) 105,003, about 10,000 more has since been added to its population by the extension act of 1883. Inhabited houses 22,708

Edinburgh, metropolis of Scotland, seat of the College of Justice, or Court of Session, which is the Supreme Court of Scotland; of the Justiciary Exchequer and other Courts; a university city, royal and parliamentary burgh, the county town of Edinburghshire, and the place of the annual meeting of general assemblies of both the Church of Scotland and the Free Church, and of the Synod of the United Presbyterian Church; a city of great antiquity, was for centuries the seat of royal administration and the meeting place of parliament. It figured so long and prominent in national events that its history is much connected with the general history of Scotland. Of late years it has undergone progressive costly improvements and great extensions, and measures—exclusive of important suburbs—about 2 miles from east to west and about 2½ miles from north to south, is so vast that it would be out of place in these limits to enter into detail. The public buildings are numerous and attractive, many of them magnificent edifices, among those of most interest are:—Holyrood Palace; the Castle; Parliament House; the University; the New University Buildings; Museum of Science and Art; Antiquarian Museum; Phrenological Museum; Heriot's Hospital completed 1650 at a cost of £30,000; Royal Exchange (1761) £31,000; Bank of Scotland (1806) £75,000; County Buildings (1817) £15,000; Register House (1820) £80,000, since added to; High School (1827) £30,000; Edinburgh Academy (1824) £20,000; Royal College of Surgeons (1833) £20,000; The Orphan Hospital (1833) £16,000; Royal Institution (1836) £40,000; Corn Exchange (1849) £20,000; Donaldson's Hospital (1851) £100,000; British Linen Co.'s Bank (1852) £30,000; Stewart's Hospital (1853) £30,000; Art Galleries (1858) £40,000; General Post Office (1866) £120,000; Sheriff-Court Buildings (1868) £44,000; Fettes' College (1870) £150,000; Maternity Hospital (1878) £10,000; the New Royal Infirmary (1879) £380,000, &c. It has a Royal Lunatic Asylum, Blind Asylum, Deaf and Dumb Institution, &c., Botanic Gardens and Aboretum, several public parks, and squares adorned by many monuments, of which the most conspicuous is Sir Walter Scott's, completed in 1844 at a cost of £17,650. The university has obtained at least as high a medical reputation as any in Europe, while the other educational establishments are justly celebrated. It will compare favourably with any city in Great Britain for the number and importance of its benevolent and charitable establishments, and valuable endowments for the maintenance and instruction of the young. It has a variety of scientific and literary institutions. The religious and missionary societies are most prominent. The ecclesiastical buildings are both numerous and handsome, several of which are highly interesting. The Churches are Established, Free, United Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Congregational, Evangelical Union, Wesleyan, Roman Catholic, Original Secession, Primitive Methodist, Catholic Apostolic, Society of Friends, Unitarian, and a Jewish Synagogue. It has railway communication to all parts. Its seaports are Leith and Granton. Annual value of real property (1882-83) £1,820,698. pop. 228,357. Inhabited houses 41,156

Glasgow, the commercial and manufacturing capital of Scotland, and, in aggregate importance, the second city in the empire. Situate on the Clyde, and 47½ miles by rail from Edinburgh. Is the political capital of Lanarkshire, a royal and parliamentary burgh, a university city, seat of judiciary and sheriff courts, and a head port. Originated from the cathedral founded about A.D. 560; was made a royal burgh in 1180; was but a small burgh of limited extent in 1550. Its great and continued prosperity—entirely the result of enterprise and skill in manufactures and commerce—only dates from last century. Its present vast predominance testify to the vitality and energy of its citizens. In the fifty years between 1831 and 1881 it considerably more than trebled its population, and now, including suburbs, measures 6 miles by 4½, and is of such magnitude that space will not admit here of even a meagre description.

The public buildings are both numerous and handsome, and include many very interesting and noble structures. The Cathedral, the University, the Merchants' House, the General Post Office, and the Royal Exchange may be mentioned. The Municipal Buildings now being erected is estimated to cost about £500,000, including £165,000 paid for the site. The charitable institutions are many, the most important being the Royal Infirmary, Western Infirmary, Fever Hospitals, Small-pox Hospital, Maternity Hospital, Asylum for the Blind, Deaf and Dumb Institute, Lunatic Asylum, &c. It has various scientific and literary institutions, including a museum and two public libraries, also a Royal Botanic Garden. Several public parks, many monuments—no fewer than 11 stand in George Square.

The Churches are Established, Free, United Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Evangelical Union, Congregational, Wesleyan, Roman Catholic, Catholic Apostolic, Methodist, Christadelphian, Original Seceders, Unitarian, Plymouth Brethren, Society of Friends, Christian Brethren, and a Jewish Synagogue.

The harbour shared in the prosperity of the city, and by extensions from time to time necessitated by increasing trade acquired its present greatness. The expenditure on harbour works, deepening the river, &c., to June, 1872, amounted to £5,594,982. Subsequent to that date £1,600,000 had been spent on the construction of the Queen's Dock. For about 2½ miles from Glasgow Bridge the river presents the appearance of an immense dock, and is deep enough for the largest seagoing ships. The harbour possesses all the appliances of a first-class port, and is connected with the whole railway system of the kingdom. The number of vessels owned in Glasgow in 1880 were 637 steam ships, tonnage 409,564; 570 sailing ships, tonnage 367,216. Its shipping in 1882 comprised 8036 vessels of 2,386,697 tons inwards, and 8633 vessels of 2,634,561 tons outwards. The export, import, and coasting trades are enormous. For sailings of steamers, see list of shipping offices, page 231.

Annual value of real property 1882-83, in parliamentary burgh £3,299,680, in municipal burgh £3,424,490. Pop. of parliamentary burgh 487,985; inhabited houses 101,713. Pop. of city and suburbs 674,095; inhabited houses 137,893

MILTON DUFF DISTILLERY.

THIS Distillery was established in 1824, and is situated in the Glen of Pluscarden, Morayshire, a locality unenviably notorious in the days of illicit distillation. None were better judges of the water most suitable for producing a fine Malt Whisky than those pioneers of the legitimate trader, the “SMUGGLERS;” and to the location of this Distillery may be ascribed the mellowness and early maturing properties of the spirit which have been long and favourably known to the trade, and acknowledged to be one of the finest for blending purposes produced in the North.

BEGS respectfully to draw the Attention of PROPRIETORS, AND PARTIES INTERESTED IN THE MANAGEMENT OF PROPERTY, to a New Method of Plastering walls and making up decayed fronts of Properties with Irish Compound of Lime.

This Compound when finished presents an appearance equal to that of Cement, and can be done for about one-half the price. Benefits derived from this Compound are, THAT IT WILL NOT CRACK, NO MATTER HOW LONG ON, AND THAT IT IS ENTIRELY DAMP PROOF. Knowing the enormous amount of this kind of work requiring to be done yearly, and for which Cement is entirely used, the Subscriber would impress on all the advisability of giving this new method a trial. # PATENT OFFICE, DESIGNS AND TRADE MARKS REGISTRY.

W. R. M. THOMSON & Co., PATENT AGENTS AND CONSULTING ENGINEERS, 96 BUCHANAN STREET, GLASGOW (who have had over 30 YEARS' professional experience), continue to obtain BRITISH AND FOREIGN PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS, and REGISTER DESIGNS and TRADE MARKS, at Lowest Charges.

Under the "Patents, Designs, and Trade Marks Act, 1883," which is now in operation, Inventors may be provisionally protected at a nominal fee, and ample time is given for experimentally testing and perfecting improvements before complete specifications and Drawings have to be filed. Inventors are therefore recommended to secure protection before undertaking costly trials.

Full information regarding cost and procedure on application for Patents will be found in the "INVENTOR'S GUIDE," which may be had gratis.
